HONGKONG, MAY 20TH, 1875.

WE reprint to-day, from the Geographical improvements of this kind taking place, but it Magazine, an article on Chinese Emigration | may be open to quation whether it is advisable MARKHAM, C.B., which is well worth serious Governmenture execising a very rigid economy attention. The emigration of Chinese coolies in connection with several public works about to Peru was formerly carried out on a large scale, and was subject to many and great abuses. The coolies have also, it must be admitted, been treated improperly in past times in Peru. But this is now, we are told by Mr. MARKHAM, rectified, and it never existed by will of the Peruvian Government, which has always shown itself most anious to remove all cause of complaint, and provide for the comfort and well-being of the Chinese labourers. A great many abuses have been laid at the door of the Peruvians, it seemsprobable, of which they were perfectly innocent. There is always a tendency to overcrowd emigrant ships, but this was not so much the fault of the Peruvian Authorities as of the emigration companies, and the mion respecting the maint mance of peace. A vessels of the first-class used for the purpose friendly and estisfactory reply was returned are said by Mr. MARKHAN to have been good | France bus thanked Rugland for her friendly and well ventilated. But the old contract system, under which so many abuses took place at Macao, is abolished, by the action of the Portuguese Government, and though Macao has received a great shock in consequence, the Government have earned a title to respect for justice and humanity, which after all is more valuable than the profits at Kowloon, charged a man named Lai Apo accruing from a trade that reflected nothing and a roll of grass cloth. but disgrace upon the port.

But though contract emigration to Peru | labour, from Macso has ceased, the land of the Yncas is still anxious to obtain labour from China. Peru is too bot a country for Europeans to cultivate, and as its soil is rich and fertile, the landed proprietors, as well as the Government, are naturally desirous of socuring labour. There are other fields open to them besides China, but no labourers equally valuable. The negro is lazy: the Indian lacks energy and strongth; the Chinaman is industrious and strong. The Chinese are also known to be good and skilful cultivators of the soil; they enjoy an it so bappened he was a new man, and was told atterly worthless for any practical purpose; and from 1860 to 1873 the number increased to excellent character for thrift and frugality, the use was a fight. As a proof that they are contented with the privileges accorded them, Mr. Mirkhan the prisoner, It was the love of judice which instance the fact that in August last a on address to Don MANUEL PARDO, the President of the Republic, on occasion of the gembling house where very bad characters completion of his second year of office, in which they alluded to the guarantees and equal rights which had been secured to them and to the protection they had received, and expressed their warm gratitude to His Excellency's Government. On the auppression of the coolie traffic from Macao, the Government of Peru resolved enter into a Treaty with China, and Don AUBELIO GARCIA y GARCIA WAS instructed to proceed to China and propose it, also to or do anything to close it. invite the Peking Government to send special commissioners to Peru to inspect and report upon the condition and prospects of the emigrants. A special agreement has in conse quence been drawn up between the two Governments of China and Peru, which amply provides for the discovery and correction of any griovances which Chinese coolies may be suffering in Peru. It could not be worded in a fairer manner, and shows great liberality. and a desire to concede every possible privilege to the Chinese, and of establishing a good and friendly understanding with that power. Free emigration is to be allowed under this now Treaty under certain regulations. and a line of steamers will probably soon be established, under strict Government supervision, to convey emigrants to Peru. The Peruvian Government engages to compel employers to provide passages home to timeexpired Chinese labourers, and to place all garment. The lady told him so. Chinese subjects on the same footing in every respect as those of the most favoured nation. The emigrants will in the future, it is said, come chiefly from the northern provinces, and will be of a superior class to those who have formerly been attracted to Peru. This is all very satisfactory to hear of, and we trust that the promises of the Pernvian Government, which have evidently been made in good faith, will be efficiently carried out. China has a large surplus population, and Peru has extensive unpeopled solitudes. There is no good reason why Chinese labourers should not be employed in developing the resources of that fine country, and it is undoubtedly the duty of statesmen to help defendant struck him a blow on the face. forward the progress of their countries by encouraging immigration where labour is scarce and of promoting emigration where

THE GOLD. PRODUCTION OF THE

The gold coinage of Germany has so serious. w disturbed the money markets of the world, and there is so much apprehension with regard to the future demands for that counge, that i becomes of interest for men of business to try is available for trade and also the rate of produstion of the gold-yielding countries. In addition to the German demand, it must be remembered that there is a demand to make good the west and tear as well as the usenal loss of the existing stock of gold, a demand which is estimated to approach £3,000,000 a year, and also that Japan is likewise coming gold Furthermore, France is evidently almost ready to resume cash payments, and according to the Act of January last the United States, are to resume on New Year's Day, 1879. Lastly, adonting a single gold corrency. Italy, Austria Russia, Turkey, and Spain are all at present under a regime of inconvertible paper, but there seems little probability of their being apeedily in a position to return to cash payments. The only addition to the existing M. Dufaure has made a joke; not one, per demand to be apprehended in the immediate

Captain Mercler has just finished a picture of -the present Onbinet, for which, something less than a year ago, he received a commission from a private committee of members of both Houses of Parliament. The picture includes portraits of all the Cabinet Ministers, each of whom, with the exception of the Premier, has given several sittings to the artist. Mr. Diarneli was, however, mone the less successfully "taken" whilst receiving a deputation. The ecene is laid in the Council Chamber at Downing-street, which is sketched with a fidelity that has not omitted to take note of a rent in one of the yellow talico window-blinds. The Premier is represented in a standing strinde addiesing the Cabinet, the members of which are grouped in the most untural manner. All the likenesses are good. but amongst those which will probably be recognised as the happiest are Lord Cairns, the Duke of Richmond, Mr. Gathorne Hardy, Lord Derby, and Mr. Cross. The picture is intended for presentation to one of the Conservative Clubs. It is being engraved by Mr. H. Lemon.

-Daily News. The anniversary in connexion with the reatoration of the nave of the Briefol Oathedrel was celebrated recently. A public lumbeo. was held, presided over by the Mayor of Bristol, Mr. O. J. Thomas, who is a Unitarian. From the report presented by the hon, secretary, Mr. W. K. Wait, M.P., it appeared that during the eight years over which the work extended a sum of £41,200 had been contributed, and the committee expressed a belief that if £3,000 were at once placed at their disposal the nave might be connected with the remainder of the Cathedral and made available for Divine service before the pext and yer. sary. The report of Mr. Street, the architect, detailed the progress made during the year, and stated that the works to be completed before the nave could be used were the western window and gable, the interior of the western towers, the floors, doors, and the fittings, carvings, and sculpture. Subscriptions amounting to upwards of £2,000 were appounced at the luncheen by Mr. Wait, who remarked that the large sum contributed to that work-unwards of £40,000 in eight years reflected credit on the liberality of the citizens of Bristol, and he doubted whether in any other city an equal interest had been shown in onthedral obgreties -

Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby offening a vact economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have beretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast boope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration. Price Lists, Untalogues, and all information Chalcaers' Vocabularly contains about 16,000 Chiness characters, and Medhurst's English LANE, CRAWFORD AND CO., and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese chargeters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the HONGKONG, SHANGHAI, AND JAPAN, student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. KATHLEN O'LYNN. O, Kathlen O'Lyzin, how you taize me! Sure you know that I'm bound in your spell; Then, mayourn con I-proy you to aize me, And say that you love me, as well.

Sure you've played the contette long enough now,

And, Och I should count it a sin, Did I not know that I had your love now."

Last night, at the wake of Pat Doolan, There was no want of jolity rare; But to us it seemed nothlog but fooling When I found your swats Inco wasn't there. But as soon as you entered the shieling. I rejoked in the music and din: While my heart glowed with amorous feeling For thee, my swate Kethlen O'Lynn.

My duling, swate Kathlen O'Lynn.

All day, at my common employment, The thoughts of you gladen my soul, And thrill me with secret enjoyment, And even my actions control, ... Then, take me no more with your nonsense. But just, like an angel, give in ; For you know from your heart and your conscience That you love me, swate Kathlen O'Lyan;

> JEN BARR. HOW THE LEAVES CAME DOWN. BY BUSAN COOLIDGE.

" I'll tell you how the leves came down." The great Tree to his children said: "You'm getting sleepy Yellow and Brown, Yes, very sleepy, little Red; It is quite time you went to bed."

Ah!" begged each silly, ponting leaf, " Let us a little longer stay a Dear Father Tree, behold our grief. Tis such a very pleasant day, We do not want to go away.

So, inst for one more merry day

To the great Tree the leaflets cling. Frolicked and danced and had their way, Upon the Auturen breezes swang. Whispering all their sports among. "Perhaps the great Tree will forget. And let us stay until the next Spring. If we all beg and coax and fret." But the great Tree did no such thing; He smiled to hear their whispering,

"Come, children, all to bed," he cried; And ere the leaves could urge their prayer, le shook his hend, and far and wide. Flattering and rostling everywhere, Down sped the leaflets through the sir.

I saw them; on the ground they lay, Golden and red, a huddled swarm; Waiting till one from far away, While hed clothes heaped upon her arm, Should come to wrap them safe and worm.

The great bare Tree looked down and smiled, ord-night, dear little leaves." be said And from below each sleepy child Replied, "Good-night," and murmured, ""It is so nice to go to bed."
